CIVIL ACTION No. 4:23-cv-2847

EXPERT REPORT OF MICHAEL ARAMBULA, M.D.

My name is Michael Arambula, M.D. I have been actively involved in patient care since my internship and residency training commenced over 30 years ago. I am a physician and a pharmacist / clinical pharmacologist. I am Board Certified in both General Psychiatry and Forensic Psychiatry and hold an Adjunct Associate Professor of Psychiatry appointment in the Department of Psychiatry at The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio. I am the immediate Past President of the Texas Medical Board and Past President of the Texas Society of Psychiatric Physicians. During my career, I have evaluated and treated (probably) thousands of psychiatric patients in inpatient and outpatient settings, including patients who struggled with symptomatic mental illness and the adverse, psychosocial sequelae their illnesses carried. May I also note that my fellowship training in Forensic Psychiatry provided me additional training and expertise in the evaluation and treatment of individuals who have Paraphilic Disorders, and the adverse, psychosocial injuries their sexual deviance had upon victims. Related, I have been one of our State's Experts in Sexually Violent Predator Civil Commitment proceedings over these past 20 years; in addition to an array of criminal cases the Texas Attorney General and the United States Department of Justice retained me as their expert. May I also note that Governor Richards previously appointed me to the Texas Council on Offenders with Mental and Medical Impairments, where I participated in our Agency's Sub-Committees on 'Competency to Stand Trial' and our recommendations (re: expert qualifications, clinical examination factors, and expert reports) were ultimately adopted by the Texas Legislature and published in Article 46B of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure. Later during my career, Governor Perry appointed me to the Texas Medical Board, where my almost 12-year tenure on the Texas Medical Board provided me with the opportunity to preside over 1000 Hearings involving physician impairment and professionalism – including sexual improprieties – and the care and treatment physicians rendered to their patients; and several thousand more cases in which I participated in their adjudication. Lastly, I was fortunate to serve as the 1st Hispanic President of the Texas Medical Board in the history of our Great State.

I attach my CV and testimony lists for your review.

For my work in this case, I am being compensated at the hourly rate of $350 per hour. My compensation does not change based on the conclusions and opinions that I provide here or later in this case or on the outcome of this lawsuit.

Clinical research has demonstrated that brain development / maturation is a life-long process and that development which occurs during childhood and adolescence serves as the bedrock for subsequent change in brain function / maturation in adulthood. Research has shown that 'experience' and 'heightened sensitivity' (to the environment) are crucial to brain plasticity (brain development) in childhood and adolescence and that maturation of frontal lobes along with 'executive function' occurs during late adolescence and early adulthood. Executive function, drawing information from all lobes in the brain, is where decision-making and self-regulation emanate from. Lacking both experience and frontal lobe maturity, minors are apt to be impulsive and take risks. Since they are less able to foresee the consequences of their behavior and modulate their emotional reactivity, they are also more susceptible to peer influence. Further, research has shown that minors who experienced poor attachment to others during their development are more prone to exhibit 'acting out' behavior.

The exposure of minors to sexually oriented performances can adversely affect them in different ways. Amidst the backdrop of their immature frontal lobe development and immature executive function, minors, and more so adolescents in puberty, remain vulnerable to copying / acting out the sexual behavior which they have been exposed to. Keeping in mind that adolescents are more impulsive, risk taking, and sensation seeking, this (sexual) stimulus can easily set the stage for their subsequent behavior. Since clinical research has shown that sexual behavior is largely a learned behavior, it does not matter whether the exposure to sexual content was heterosexual, homosexual, or bisexual activity in nature. Complicating matters, sexual activity elicits sexual pleasure, and this personal experience can fuel a subsequent sexual preoccupation, a clinical phenomenon which I have repeatedly observed in my forensic work (involving sex offenders) and my clinical work (involving sexual promiscuity in my patients).

Unfortunately, it has been my professional experience to observe that individuals who lacked healthy interpersonal relationships and who were exposed to explicit sexual content and who experienced brief sexual / emotional pleasure engaging in these similar sexual activities (they were exposed to), were those individuals who struggled with personal worth, anxiety, depression, substance abuse and sexual deviance.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is correct.
